

ABSTRACT

A suspended and truncated co-planar waveguide is described. The waveguide has a substrate with a substantially flat top surface and two lateral faces. A signal conductor and two ground conductors are placed on the top surface forming a ground-signal-ground pattern along a common plane. The waveguide has respective electrical side-wall boundaries on each of the two lateral faces of the substrate.

5 50197828.doc